SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 12.

SENATOR LINDSAY still declines, with thanks, the resignation tendered him by the Kentucky legislature.

THERE are between 90,000 and 100,000 lawyers in the United States and nevertheless the government at Washington still lives.

MR. W. JENNINGS BRYAN has again declared his loyalty and fealty to sixteen and one. Thank you. Thought he had forgotten all about it.

From the tenor of the press in the Third district, the appointment by Judge Parker of Mr. J. P. Mitchell, as clerk of the Third judicial court, is giving satisfaction. This is well.

THE New York Times and other Mugwump journals and all yellow journals in the country are having a nice time expressing their deep and lasting dissatisfaction at the fact that Mr. McKinley has appointed a new fish commissioner.

It is singular how Democratic correspondents, politicians and alleged leaders, are worrying themselves over appointments of Republicans to office. And what they do not know about what is going on, amounts to much more than what they do know.

SOME of the Albuquerque politicians and statesmen are having a hard time of it keeping on both sides of the so-called Albuquerque ditch matter. They are making a mistake. Straddling the fence in political or public questions butters no political parsnips.

THE dissatisfaction said to exist in New Mexico over the fact that Chief Justice William J. Mills will step in and up and ex-Chief Justice Thomas Smith will step down and out has, after the closest and most careful search and laborious scrutiny, not been discovered yet.

WHEN it comes to running this city government for this city, it seems best that the whole thing be thrown over. The taxpayers and property owners do not derive much benefit from the city government and why continue it at a great expense with no corresponding benefit. The thing has been tried and does not seem to do any good.

THE building of the eastern extension of the Pecos valley railroad, of the El Paso & Northwestern and White Oaks & Kansas City and the extension of the Denver & Rio Grande to a connection with these roads within the next three years would be great. This is bound to come. There are many prosperous days in store for New Mexico within the next few years.

EX-SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE STEPHEN J. MORTON has just completed a new theater at his home town, Nebraska City. The New Mexican does not believe, however, that Mr. Morton will allow the production of Mr. W. Jennings Bryan's great comedy, "The Curse of Gold and the Crown of Thorns," or Senator Stewart's heart rending drama, "The Crime of '73," therein.

THE Republican factions in Grant county, according to our esteemed contemporary, the Silver City Enterprise, are none too happy over the appointment of Mrs. Artie E. Galloway as postmistress at Silver City. Well, there ought to be no factions, there ought to be a Republican party only in Grant county and there would be no dissatisfaction over appointments, as the party would then control the appointments.

THE territorial and county governments must be supported by taxation. The collector who is dishonest or does not comply with the law should be removed from office. This is no time for mauling sentimental rot. The honest taxpayer is entitled to fair and just treatment and the person who owns taxable property and does not pay the taxes thereon should suffer the penalty of the law. Under the recent Democratic administration tax collections were embezzled in several instances and the law was executed with laxity. This is a Republican administration. The people expect different and better things.

THE Elizabethtown correspondent of the Denver News sends a long and lurid dispatch to his paper setting forth that a revolution is brewing in that mining camp and all because Miss Florence E. Michaels was appointed postmaster and some one else was not. The New Mexican assures the News it need lose no sleep over this matter. New Mexico correspondents are very apt to overdo things and overdraw the situation in order to send more matter and get more pay. And that is about all there is to most of the dispatches of the kind mentioned.

PRESIDENT MCKINLEY's clear and concise utterances on the currency question are being commended by Democratic as well as Republican papers. The Brooklyn Eagle, one of the strongest independent Democratic papers on the Atlantic coast, in a recent editorial discussing the president's utterances, says: "On the currency question every word which he said was earnest, honest, wise, prudent and patriotic. The president of the United States cannot with justice or propriety treat pending propositions in a public address in a specific manner, and the president's reserve does not leave us unconsoled, for we can agree with everything he said on currency reform, and we believe that in him currency reform has a friend."

WERNER McNALL, the Kansas state insurance commissioner, is entirely too inquisitive, so say the insurance companies. He wants these latter to report to him the sums of money paid out for influencing legislation in Kansas. That reminds the NEW MEXICAN, that there is already a movement on foot by certain insurance companies for the repeal of the recent New Mexico law compelling a deposit of $10,000, either in territorial or county bonds, in cash or in real estate security, with the treasurer of the territory, as a requisite to doing business in the territory. However, as in the case of the celebrated militia warrants schemes of Mr. A. Staab et al., the NEW MEXICAN will keep its eagle eye on this scheme and will hold it up in the broad light of day and place it in the glare of the shining noon day sun of public knowledge, in such a manner as will make the schemers seek the shadiest side of the most obscure lane, sink away and hide their heads in sorrow and in shame. As with the militia warrants schemes, the NEW MEXICAN will stay with you.

Deliver Us from Reformers. "The holier than thou" cranks with their pharisaical leer, Carl Schurz, Larry Godkin, Joe Choate et al., must be extremely edified by the exposure now being made before the senate investigating committee, which is bringing to light the dark lantern doings of the civil service commission. As the following Washington dispatch shows, the employees of that detestable body are engaged in the congenial task of telling the truth on each other, and very nasty truth it is:

Washington, Feb. 5.—E. D. Bailey, a chief clerk in the civil service commission, severely criticised certain acts of the commission at a hearing today by the senate committee investigating the workings of the classified service. He named several instances where, according to his interpretation of the rules, they had been violated or even by the commission itself. One of these was in connection with the government printing office, where 35 compositors had been reinstated two years after the expiration of the limit, on the ground that they had been discharged on a form intended for temporary and not permanent discharges. He also cited cases where commissions had been antedated in order to bring the time of reinstatement within the limit, where promotions and transfers had been made irregularly, and where many appointments had been made without any examinations whatever. Mr. Bailey called attention to a practice which had grown up in the departments lately of having persons certified for special qualifications, instead of submitting the three names highest on the list.

It is almost incredible that such immoderate saints as the civil service commissioners should be guilty of deliberately violating and evading the laws which were passed at their behest for the purifying of our public service. It would be a crime for ward heelers to change dates and insert false ones, but they are only common every day citizens, while the high-toned and well-paid commissioners, who are guilty of these acts, are called honest reformers who would not rub skirts with low politicians and office seekers.

But here is the shameful truth as sworn to by one of themselves. These balmey Aminidab Sleeks and Uriah Heeps have been caught at unsavory tricks which common counterfeiter or bill raisers would be ashamed of. Yet these are the pure-minded persons who modestly declare that their mission is to remodel the entire government. It surely would be a model government when they have got their work in on it. Fortunately this exposure comes at an opportune time. Now let congress tear away the veil from the face of this modern Makhanna, and expose its hideous deformity to the public gaze. Not another dollar should be voted to keep the foul thing alive. Let it die the death it deserves. And so mote it be.

The women are strictly in it. The women are strictly in it. New Mexico so far as the postoffices are concerned. Among the recent changes the ladies secured the postoffices at Las Cruces, Silver City, San Marcel, Raton and Elizabethtown.—Albuquerque Citizen.

Delicately children! What a source of anxiety they are! The parents wish them hearty and strong, but they keep thin and pale.

To all these delicate children Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites comes with the best of news.

It brings rich blood, strong bones, healthy nerves, and sound digestion. It is growth and prosperity to them.

No matter how delicate the child, it is readily taken.

See, and $1.00, all druggists. SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, New York.

A woman who takes chances with her health is simply gambling with the Black Devil of Disease. If she has any weakness or derangement of the delicate organism of her sex, to rely upon an unskilled, inexperienced, general practitioner is to risk her health upon a gambler's hazard. Her only real safety is in the careful well-digested advice of a physician who has had wide, special experience in diseases of this particular class. The chief consulting physician of the famous Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., Dr. R. V. Pierce, has devoted thirty years of special study and practice to the weaknesses and diseases peculiar to women. His grand medicine, the "Favorite Prescription," has done more to restore perfect health and strength to women than any other medicine. It is the only proprietary medicine devised for this purpose by an educated, skilled specialist in woman's peculiar ailments.

On Monday the president sent in the name of Mrs. Artie E. Galloway to be postmistress at this place. It is a graceful tribute to a worthy lady, to whom the position is more of a necessity than to either of the other applicants. The appointment of this lady to be postmistress means the ignoring of all Republican factions in Grant county, by the powers that be in Santa Fe.—Silver City Enterprise.

Another Voice From Grant County. The president has appointed Mrs. Frank M. Galloway as postmistress at Silver City. A more appropriate and better appointment could not have been made. Frank M. Galloway was one of the two officers killed while in pursuit of the "Black Jack" gang, which had been robbing postoffices. He left a wife and four young children. The postoffice department could not have done a more appropriate thing than to appoint his widow to this office.—Lordsburg Liberal.

Help Should be Extended. The county officials, boards of trade, school boards, and local citizens of the territory should petition congress to grant public lands in aid of the public schools of New Mexico. This is an important matter, and Delegate Ferguson should be assisted by the people of the territory.—Albuquerque Citizen.

Manipulation and Diagnosis. Looking over the columns of our esteemed contemporary, the Raton Range, it is evident that the editorial forces of that paper had a very bad attack of dyspepsia all last week and looked upon this beautiful world with jaundiced eyes.—Santa Fe New Mexican.

Yama-yama! You may be indulging a convention or manipulating a legislature, but you are as much beyond your depth in diagnosing a case of American independence in politics as you are in winning votes at a general election. Our digestion is excellent and our eyesight is fairly good, thank you.—Raton Range.

A Political Propaganda That Went Amiss.

That Silver City postoffice plum is going to drop very soon now. It is a toss-up as to which one will get it, but the knowing ones claim that Johnny Wiley has the inside. For myself, I don't know how figure W. L. Jackson out of the race, and I am told confidentially that Will Lorenz is not without some mighty strong endorsements. Mrs. Galloway has some excellent backing, but it seems to be the aim of the present territorial administration to strengthen the party in every way by appointments, so it is fair to presume that it will go to one of the applicants with political influence.—Silver City Independent.

The Mitchell Appointment as Clerk Third District.

Judge Parker's appointment of James T. Mitchell, as clerk of the court of the Third judicial district, gives unqualified satisfaction generally throughout the district. Mr. Mitchell is a straight-forward and consistent Republican and for many years has been a forcible factor in the Republican party of Sierra county. As a citizen Mr. Mitchell is the peer of any man in the territory, as to competency, no one could better fill the position; he is in every way fitted and deserving for the office. The Enterprise, like the majority of the Grant county people, put forward and supported another candidate, but most candidly and freely admits, as is admitted on all sides, that the appointment of Mr. Mitchell is a proper and fitting recognition of the claims of Judge Parker's home county, where he so long resided. Upon this appointment there are no detrimental criticisms heard, only unanimous commendation and approval.—Silver City Enterprise.

Extending in New Mexico.

The rumor that the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad company is getting statistics in regard to the traffic which might be secured by an extension of its system into the interior of New Mexico, may be without foundation. We have heard such rumors before, and yet the company has never seemed to look with favor upon projects to extend its lines into either New Mexico or Arizona.

SKETCHES BY M. QUAD

Just a Business Call.

Some of the boys had told the man in charge of the cattle yards at Allentown that the duffer in charge of the freight outfit over the hill had referred to his personal appearance in a disrespectful way. The cattlemen thereupon twisted the tails of three or four refractory steers and announced that he would go over and make the freighter eat grass or fill him full of lead. He didn't go at once, however. He waited until he got real mad and until he could clean up his gun and sharpen the point of his bowie knife and tell about the number of men he had killed down in Texas. He might not have gone at all had not his crowd suggested that he had a dignity to maintain and that the eyes of the civilized world were upon him. After delaying the matter as long as he could the cattlemen announced that he was ready. He buckled on his guns and shoved a knife down his boot leg. He looked ugly. He looked ferocious. There wasn't the slightest doubt that he thirsted for gore and hankered after graveyards. There was only one reason why the boss of the cattlemen should call on the boss of the freighters. That reason was death.

The freighter was a small man of humble looks and quiet demeanor. He sat under a wagon eating his dinner when the cattlemen came swaggering up, expectorated over his left shoulder and hoarsely demanded: "Has this yore outfit got a man at the head of it—a man as wears boots?" "Says 'yes,'" was the quiet reply.

"Does he know a gun from a steer's hind leg?" "He do."

"And might he be able to pull the trigger of that gun if he tried real hard?" "He might."

"Well, I've come over to pay him a call. Mebbe he's heard that I'm cunin and taken a walk, but if he hasn't would you be so kind and condescend as to point him out to me and introduce me as the Rocky Mountain Bazo—a critter what has to drink a gallon of blood a day to keep down his rampagousness. I don't want to put you to any great trouble, but mebbe you'll do this for me."

"Sartinly I'll do it," said the man under the wagon. "Stranger, look down on this."

"I'm a-lookin'. It's a gun, I take it?" "It is."

"And you ar' the boss I'm lookin' fur?" "I am. Hev you got any pettierick business with me today?"

"It ain't no very pettierick," replied the Bazo as he looked steadily at the muzzle of the gun. "I just run over on a business call—to ax if business was good."

"Business couldn't be better, though I thank you fur your kindness. Is that all?" "I don't think of nuthin more at present, and if you hev no objections I'll take a walk."

"No objections 'tall, and you can start too quick!"

And away went the boss of the cattlemen, spitting over each shoulder by turns, and the boss of the freighters laid down his gun and attacked his dinner again, looking over a look and to see if other callers might be expected.

Beware of the Knife.

Mr. Lincoln Nelson, of Marshallfield, Mo., writes: "For six years I have been suffering from a scrofulous affection of the glands of my neck, and all efforts of physicians in Washington, D. C., Springfield, Ill., and St. Louis failed to reduce the enlargement. After six months' constant treatment, my physician urged me to submit to a removal of the gland. At this critical moment a friend recommended S.S.S., and laying aside a deep-rooted prejudice against all patent medicines, I began its use. Before I had used one bottle the enlargement began to disappear, and now it is entirely gone, though I am not through with my second bottle yet. Had I only used your S.S.S. long ago, I would have escaped years of misery and saved over $50."

This experience is like that of all who suffer with deep-seated blood troubles. The doctors can do no good, and even their resorts to the knife prove either fruitless or fatal. S.S.S. is the only real blood remedy; it gets at the root of the disease and forces it out permanently. S.S.S. (guaranteed purely vegetable).

A Real Blood Remedy.

THE SEVENTH Beet Sugar factory in the United States was erected at Eddy, New Mexico, in 1896, and made its first "campaign," beginning November 15th, 1896, and closing February 15th, 1897.

THE CONTENT OF "SUGAR in the beet" of the crop grown in the Eddy and Roswell sections of the valley has proven to be more uniformly high than any other part of the United States.

FORTUNATELY the land is blessed with just the fertility to produce high grade beets, and

MORE FORTUNATELY the Pecos Irrigation and Improvement Co. and the Roswell Land and Water Co. have an irrigation system of great magnitude, covering a vast body of the BEST SUGAR BEET lands on earth. The water is applied to the crop WHEN NEEDED.

THE SUN SHINES more hours in the day and more days in the year in Eddy and Roswell counties, New Mexico, than in any other section of the west.

GOOD SOIL makes the seed germinal.

WATER makes the plant grow.

SUNLIGHT puts the sugar in the BEET.

THE ONLY THING left to be desired that the Pecos Valley has not on hand in abundance is PEOPLE. We need thrifty farmers; 500 heads of families each on a 40-acre farm.

NO FATTER terms or conditions of sale of beet and fruit lands were ever made.
